

DAILY STATE SENTINEL.

WILLIAM J. BROWN, Editor.

INDIANAPOLIS:

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 26, 1855.

"No North or South, no East or West under the Constitution; but a sacred duty—a duty of the common bond and true devotion to the common brotherhood."—Franklin Pierce.

National Democratic Nominations.

The Democratic committees must not fail to procure tickets and have them distributed in the townships. Attend to this. What is everybody's business is nobody's.

Editor Cyrus E. Dunham will address the Democracy at the Court House next Monday evening. Turn out.

Voters at the Presidential Election.

The mode and manner of appointing or electing electors under the Constitution of the United States, is left to the discretion of the respective States. The qualifications of the voters in Indiana is defined by law as follows:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That the qualified electors of the State, shall on Tuesday following the first Monday in November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty two, and on Tuesday following the first Monday in November in every fourth year thereafter, elect electors of President and Vice-President of the United States which election shall in all respects, be governed by the law regulating general elections."

"The qualified electors" is the language of the statute. All persons entitled to vote for State officers are qualified to vote for electors for President and Vice-President. The foreign born citizens, who makes his declaration of intention, and possesses the qualifications to vote at the State election, is a legal voter for Presidential electors.

To Correspondents.

The person who sent us an advertisement from Franklin, headed "Beware of a scoundrel," failed to sign his name to it. Send your name and the "scoundrel" and it will be published.

The Locomotive.

This small concern has become & sort of Whig "tender," and has for some time past been shooting along on the Whig track, making a good deal of noise, but otherwise doing no damage. The editors, for the purpose of getting into the good graces of the Whig party, have commenced abusing William J. Brown. This is the door by which a fey Democrat always enters into the confidence of the Whig leaders. The contest is over, and the Democrats have triumphed; and the only gratification the Whigs now can have is to abuse William J. Brown. John H. Bradley firmly believed that by a well-timed abuse of us, he would certainly be elected to Congress. This course, however, made him but few votes, as the result proved, and enlisted no one in his cause except the editors of the Locomotive, who endeavored to whit him by printing tickets with the name of Mr. Hendricks omitted. This we promptly exposed, and hence the hostility of the Whig "tender." The editors say they have acted with the Democratic party in conversations, and voted with it, but they take good care not to say that they voted an end and out Democratic ticket. They claim to act with the party, but take good care not to vote the party ticket, for fear of losing the influence of certain Whigs. Such Democrats are worse than Whigs. Give us an open enemy, rather than a snaflo for.

The statement in the Locomotive that we were opposed to General Lane in the Baltimore Convention is a lie. From the beginning to the end, until the vote of the State was cast for Pierce, we were for Lane, and opposed to casting the vote of the State for any one else—voted against giving the vote of the State to Cass, and never proposed to cast the vote for Douglass, and for the truth of this assertion we appeal to Maj. Morrison, William Stewart, Rep., and Col. Allen May, of this city, who were present. If these young men can make any friends among the Whig party by abusing the Sentinel of William J. Brown, they can go on. It may gratify them and their Whig friends, but don't injure us in the least. We have withheld heavier metal, and still live to fight Whiggery and all its little "tenders." These attacks may make the locomotive the Whig candidate for State printer. If so, it will have one good result—it will show where and what the thing is.

Loyal Porter-Certified United States Navy.

This gallant and noble American officer, whose conduct has won the admiration of the American people, by his manly and independent course with the Spanish authorities of Cuba, we understand has been represented for his conduct, by the President, and dismissed from the command of the Crescent City, and the command given to Lt. Schenck. This has been done by President Fillmore to gratify Mr. Calderon, the arrogant Spanish Minister, at Washington. When will our government cease to tremble at the mandates of the crowned heads of Europe? When shall we cease to pocket quietly every insult to the American flag by the petty authorities of foreign power? We answer, when Frank Pierce is President of the United States.

The Convention of the two houses of the Vermont Legislature, have elected Hon. Braxton Fairbanks, Whig, Governor of the State, by a vote of 117 to 61 for John S. Robinson, and 40 for Lawrence Brainerd. The Whig candidates for Lieutenant Governor and State Treasurer were also elected by a similar vote.

DEFINITION OF LIBERTY.—"Just lead me your dear wife and I'm master."

DEFINITION OF SLAVERY.—"Just lead me your dear wife and I'm master."

The "Clarence Charter."

Exhibited at our recent State Fair by Messrs. W. P. & A. APPLEGATE, of Connersville, took the first premium—a silver cup. It was one of the most beautiful carriages we ever saw. The carriages, trimmings, and everything about it, were simple and chaste, evidencing a most refined and delicate taste on the part of the makers.

We copy from the Journal, the following notice of the carriage, and fully endorse everything said in the last paragraph:

"The form of the carriage combines every convenience. By a most admirable arrangement, it can be made two or three seated, so that when it is desirable to cut off communication from the driver's seat, it can be done, or the whole thrown into an open carriage. The fore and hind wheels are coupled together by the body, a short and quick turn can easily and most safely be made; the opening and closing of the door from within can readily be done; the blinds over the windows roll themselves up by means of springs, and the axles are full patent, allowing no grease to come upon the outside of the wheel and axle, or dust or mud to find their way to the greese.

The outside of the carriage is black and elegantly varnished, and the outside coverings of embossed black leather.

The workmanship is of the most substantial character, and was made by the hands in the shop of the Messrs. Applegate. They have not employed, at extraordinary wages, workmen from other States, to build a carriage for this occasion, but their objectives been to truly exhibit the skill and taste of these constantly employed in their shop. And in this display of their skill and taste, they have not only done credit to themselves, but conferred honor to the State. They have nobly won the silver cup; and we trust will establish themselves in the confidence of the people of the State."

The Milford (Mass.) Journal says that ten thousand cases of boots, containing one hundred and twenty thousand pairs, were sent from that town during the month of July. There were four million five hundred and seventy-one thousand pairs of shoes made at Lynn last year.

F. P. MEAGHER.—This distinguished exile will deliver a lecture before the Mercantile Library of New York in the course of November. He is likewise engaged to lecture at Albany, Rochester, St. Louis, and other places during the winter.

Madison and Hancock Counties.

Gov. Wright has ordered an election in the Senatorial District composed of the above counties, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Col. McAllister, to be held on Saturday, the 25th of November.

Won't Give it Up.

We saw a lady on the street yesterday dressed in full Bloomer costume. Who knows but Bloomerism may yet prevail.

Another Speech from Gen. Pierce & Contrary.

At the regular meeting of the Granite Club, on Thursday evening, (says the New Hampshire Patriot,) their hall was jammed full of enthusiastic Democrats assembled to congratulate each other upon the glorious news received from Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Florida, and Baltimore. Very eloquent and spirited speeches were made by Edson Hill, Esq., of Concord, Wm. Burns, Esq., of Lancaster, L. Smith, Esq., of Nashua, and S. M. Wheeler, Esq., of Fisherfield, which were responded to by the most enthusiastic cheers. The Concord band was present, and added to the interest of the occasion by some excellent music.

At the close of the exercises in the hall, it was voted that the club proceed to the residence of Gen. Pierce and congratulate him upon the Democratic victories above named. A procession was therupon formed and headed by the band, marched to the south end, and halting before Gen. Pierces house, the band played a serenade, and then the crowd gave three tremendous cheers for the States named, and three for Gen. Pierce and when Gen. P. appeared, the president of the club, Mr. Marshall, addressed him as follows:

"General: Your friends and neighbors have called to announce to you the gratifying intelligence just received. The telegraphic wires inform us that Pennsylvania has gone for the Democracy by 15,000 majority."

"While the Keystone stands, the arch is safe." Ohio sends us greeting 20,000 for the Democracy. Indiana follows with 12,000 on the same side. And last, and perhaps the most surprising, is the announcement that the "Monumental City" has rolled up for its Democratic candidate for Mayor, the unexampled majority of 3,600. Add to this the glorious news from Florida. Your friends cannot restrain their joy, and they bid me heartily to congratulate you.

Gen. Pierce acknowledged the kindness of his neighbors and friends in coming to greet him upon the reception of intelligence to which they might well suppose he was not indifferent, though he could truly say that his position from the first had never excited in him anything like a feeling of elation. He had only awaited the progress of events, and should continue to do so; conscious that, however the result might affect individuals, his intelligent countrymen were abundantly competent to take care of their own interests, under the guidance of that power to which they wished we could all habitually look with more humility and faith. He trusted his friends would not forget that, with high-toned and honorable men, the hour of triumph was always the hour of magnanimity.

"It was not to be overlooked that there were around us many with whom we were in daily intercourse, at this moment moved by feelings exactly the opposite of those which called out the assemblage before him; and his friends could well afford to allow that circumstantial to detract somewhat from their generous joy. He hoped they would also remember that no prospect of success, nor indeed political elevation itself, could render their neighbor more or less worthy of their confidence and affection for which he was profoundly grateful.

To the people of his native State, his heart acknowledged obligations for the expression of which language furnished no form. How could it be otherwise?

For more than twenty years their disinterested friendship for him had never been chilled, nor their confidence shaken. He had not the arrogance to believe that his services had been at all commensurate with their steady, unsolicited partiality. To the record of that partiality he would ever look with pride and gratification. From the record of his acts, as its recipients, he had neither the right nor the inclination to turn away. He would freely confess to his friends, that within the last few weeks it had been peculiarly pleasant to know that forty-seven years among these people, as boy and man, had given to their faith in such strength, that falsehood could not shake it nor pervert it away."

Gen. Pierce closed with a renewed expression of his thanks, and a hearty good night to his neighbors.

The propriety, the taste, and the beauty of General Pierces remarks, need not the illustration of comment.

The modesty and the magnanimity of the spirit that uttered them will be appreciated by all.

Of the qualities of intellect and character displayed by the speeches of the Whig candidate, we will say nothing. We publish in another column the speech delivered by Gen. Scott at Auburn, and the reader will draw his own inferences.—Washington Union.

New York Money Market.

The New York Tribune, in its money article, says:

October 19.—The Money market shows increasing ease, and the current rate of call loans is back to 6 per cent., with some loans at 5 per cent. The supply of first class paper is moderate, and some of the banks have not a sufficiency offered to meet these wants.

The range is 6-7 per cent., nothing but short dates going at the inside figure.

October 20.—The current rate of Money on call is now 6 per cent., with many loans at 5-6 per cent.

The leading houses, who lend their balances from day to day, find it difficult to get borrowers. Paper of first class is 6-7 per cent.

The next Conference will meet at Evansville, on the 19th of October, 1855.

Black vs. White.

We learn from the Ohio Statesman that in that city the Whigs succeeded in getting into the ballot boxes.

EIGHT NEGRO VOTES, by swearing that they were more white than black, while they CHALLENGED and attempted to defer from voting. EVERY INHIBITION that crowded itself at the polls!

To believe good and to do good, truly and truly, is the healthiest of humanity's conditions.

A burthen which any chooses to lay aside.

Vote for Governor of Indiana.

MORRIS'S REMEDY.

A comfortable cure for Gout, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Epilepsy, Gravel, and all those distressing complaints usually consequent upon youthful excesses and indulgences.

In preparing a specific for this class of diseases, Dr. Morris has expended much time and money, in order to present to the public the most simple, safe, and efficient medicine. That it has been so successful a agent well established, as there has been many thousand bottles sold warranted to cure or the money returned, and so far has given entire satisfaction.

As in inigrating medicine for broken constitutions it has no equal being extremely palatable and mild, as well as active and prompt in its effects.

For that distressing complaint so common among females, termed Fumar Albus or Water, this specific is a sovereign remedy, and should be used by all who are thus afflicted.
